The Camden Road.

Thomas P. Grasty, writing to the Manufacturer's Record from Parkersburg, where he has been stopping over after a trip over the route of Camden's new line, gives many particulars of interest to this section. A map is given with Pittsburg at one end of the line and Covington at the other. Following is the part of the letter referring particularly to this section:

"Apropos of new towns, one of the most inviting locations that I know of is the point on the Greenbrier river where the West Virginia and Pittsburg meets the Chesapeake and Ohio. To this point from the Gauley river, a distance of only 34 miles, the final surveys have been made and the road is ready to be let to contract. The sight of the new town is now known as Marlin's Bottom, and a vote has been ordered in Pocahontas county on the question of moving the county seat thither. I did not see the place, but am told it is a beautiful location.

Besides being on the outskirts of a great timber and coal field, it is adjacent to what is supposed to be good iron ore, in both the Oriskany and Clinton formations of the Alleghany mountains. I am informed moreover, that the Chesapeake and Ohio Company are now having a portion of this alleged ore region explored under the direction of Mr. Langdon, the geologist. "But that is another story."

The junction at Marlinton is the result of an agreement between the manager of the West Virginia and Pittsburg Railroad and that of the Chesapeake and Ohio. The latter road has about 25 miles yet to build from its Warm Spring extension, and the West Virginia and Pittsburg as has been stated; 34 miles besides what is now ready for track laying in order to complete the connection from Pittsburg in Pennsylvania, through the centre of West Virginia to Covington. Much of this intervening country, now a wilderness, will so soon as the connection is made, become the scene of industrial developments on a scale so seldom witnessed in this country.

I asked Mr. Camden about the road up Potts Creek to open the 60,000 acres of strictly mineral lands owned by a syndicate of which he is a member. "That," he replied will be an independent road with equal advantage to the Chesapeake and Ohio and the West Virginia and Pittsburg. It will be built in the near future, and will be about 30 miles long, from Covington on toward the divide between the Potts creek and Big Stony, which latter runs through Norfolk and Western territory. This area has been explored by experts who have explored and opened the ore body in more than 50 places, which show that the slopes on either side, as well as the valley itself, contain a persistent bed of Oriskany ore from 20 to 50 feet in thickness. Most of this ore will be made into pig iron by furnaces to be erected along the road on the syndicate's property, and some will be shipped to furnaces in Virginia. A large portion of the pig iron production on Potts creek will be shipped to Pittsburg. A perfectly satisfactory traffic arrangement has been made with the Chesapeake and Ohio people, which is to apply alike to West Virginia and Pittsburg and the proposed Potts Creek Railroad."

Summing up the result of my reconnaissance in the territory of the Camden system, I am convinced that the value of the traffic it will create is beyond computation. Unlike most new roadbeds this one is thoroughly ballasted and in first class condition."
